IN A SPLENDID INLAID BINDING BY SAMBLANCX

50. BINDING. Omnium illiberalium Mechanicarum avt sedentiarum artium genera continens, etc. With the beautiful series of 130 splendid woodcuts by Jost Amman. Small 8vo, full crushed brown levant morocco, small ornaments in compartments on back; sides ornamented with interlaced designs of a lozenge, semi-circles and small circles in strap-work effect, corner ornaments. The doublures are of crushed blue levant morocco, panelled, the inlaid designs on inside of the front cover representing the interior of an ancient printing office, and that on the inside of the back cover representing a book-binding establishment, gilt edges, by Samblancx-Weckesser. In slip case. Francofurti ad Moenum, 1568

THIS IS A MOST PLEASING VOLUME, in consequence of the intelligent adaptation on the part of the binder, of illustrations in the work by the celebrated Amman, for his splendidly executed inlaid pictorial doublures. A few slight modifications from the printed cut have been made by the inlayer, but the main ideas of the engraver have been marvellously reproduced by the binder, so as to render the work a charming one to possess.

The work itself is the FIRST EDITION, and aside from the binding is most interesting in consequence of the beautiful woodcuts by Jost Amman. It is from the celebrated press of Sigismund Feyerabend, and has a brilliant impression of his device on the last page, with Colophon.

[SEE ILLUSTRATION]

51. — Virgil. Opera. Engraved title by Tavernier, with an etched plate inserted. 48mo, handsomely bound in full crushed old red English morocco, gilt over marbled edges, inner linings and flies of pale blue silk. Sedani: Typis Ioannis Ianssoni, 1625

A CHARMING SPECIMEN OF BINDING, executed about 1740 for Alexander Boswell of Auchinleck. There are broad gold borders on the sides, and a full gilt back. The tooling is mostly pointillé, and one remarkable feature in it is the use of a figure which is at once a heart and a bow, and is overlaid with two arrows. The work was apparently executed in London, but it may have been done at Edinburgh, in which case it would be classed a chef d'oeuvre of Scottish binding.

52. — Cl: Clavdianvs. Ex optimorum codicum fide. Engraved title. 32mo, full old olive morocco, richly gilt back, three separate gilt borders on sides; panelled centers, having an outer border between two sets of fine gilt fillets, containing small squares and lozenges; ornamental designs, fan-shaped, filling the corners, the whole surrounding an oval, around which is a series of scrolls, gilt gauffered edges. Amstelodami: Apud Ioann: Ianssonium, 1628

A SPLENDID SPECIMEN OF 17TH CENTURY ITALIAN BINDING, and a fine copy of this beautifully printed book from the Janson Press.

53. — Manuscript on vellum, 6pp. 4to, old morocco, the sides heavily stamped in gold forming a panel with six distinct borders. In the center of the panel is a lozenge-shaped cartouche, and the inner corners are occupied with fan-shaped ornaments. An outer blind-tooled border completes the ornamentation. A small worming appears on each cover. [1674]

AN ECCLESIASTICAL DOCUMENT OF THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY, IN AN INTERESTING SPECIMEN OF CONTEMPORARY ITALIAN BINDING. The document is designed by l'Abbe Candiottus, and attached is the seal of Cardinal Barbadici, encased in tin, the back of which is covered with morocco and tooled with designs similar to that on the book covers.

The Manuscript is illuminated, the frontispiece bearing unidentified arms, surrounded by a border, containing a medallion of a Saint and numerous floral and leaf designs in most brilliant coloring; in the lower corners containing Peacocks, and the upper corners winged beasts; the border of the following page is similar in design, except for the portrait of a different Saint; the remaining borders are narrower, with leaf and flower sprays.

54. — The English Atlas. Containing a Description of the Places next to the North-Pole; as also of Muscovy, Poland, Sweden, Denmark, and their several Dependencies. Rubricated throughout, with the maps beautifully illuminated in gold and colors and the vignettes artistically colored (a few damaged). Large folio, fine old English red morocco, handsomely decorated with an interlacing design of gilt tooled line bands and dots forming a panel and border in a manner characteristic of Mearne.

Vol. 1 only.

Oxford: Printed for Moses Pitt, 1680

55. — [Bacchini (Benedetto).] Anonymi Dialogi Tres. I. De Constantia in Adversis. II. De Dignitate Tuenda. III. De Amore erga Rempubicam. Edidit è privatis Schedis Jacobus Cantellus. Serenissini Mutinæ Ducis Geographus. 12mo, old polished calf, gilt back, the sides most richly ornamented with a profusion of scrolls and leaf sprays within quaterfoils, segments, circles, and irregular figures, within a gilt border.

Sylvæ-Ducis: Apud Joannem du Mont, 1689

AN EXCEPTIONALLY CRISP COPY OF THIS RARE BOOK, IN A HANDSOME EARLY EIGHTEENTH CENTURY BINDING. A former scholar-owner has written on the fly-leaf some notes regarding this volume, which are important enough to quote in full: "These elegant Dialogues were written by Benedetto Bacchini, who gave an account of them as an Anonymous work in his Letter of 1692. But in his Life (written by himself) he declares himself the author."

"It appears that they were published at Modena by Jac. Cantellus, in 32mo, and there was a subsequent edition at Parma 1721 in 12mo."

"The present edition appears to have been printed at Bolduc (Bois le Duc) in 1689, though the Dedication of Henry Copes to the celebrated Magliabecchi is dated 1698! Perhaps the transportation of one figure and the omission of another may account for this, and the date will then clarify." (1699)."

IN A HANDSOME SILVER BINDING

56. BINDING. Neu-entsprungene Wasser-Quelle vor Gottes-ergebene und Geistlich, durstige Seelen, etc. Engraved title, portrait (shaved on lateral edge), and engraved plates. 24mo, original wooden boards, encased in a magnificent old silver binding, back and sides wholly chased with leaf scrolls, with small center medallions of Angels, bearing Ecclesiastical emblems, and clasps, in perfect condition, gilt gauffered edges. Carolo de Stadel. 8vo, magnificently bound in old red French morocco, full gilt back, the sides ornamented with rich corner ornaments of scrolls, pointillé tooling and stars, and in the center, a most elaborate ecclesiastical coat of arms of an unidentified Cardinal, repeated on back cover, gilt edges. Inner margin of title and following leaf slightly wormed. Rome, 1712

AN ELABORATE ITALIAN BINDING OF THE EARLY EIGHTEENTH CENTURY.

58. — Quintus Horatius Flaccus ad lectiones probatiores diligenter emendatus, interpunctione nove sæpius illustretis. 12mo, full contemporary morocco, gilt borders on sides, with a crowned dolphin on back, repeated five times. Glasgux, 1744

VERY RARE SPECIMEN from the Library of the Dauphin, father of Louis XVI, XVIII and Charles X.

FROM THE LIBRARY OF MARIE ANTOINETTE

59. BINDING. Traits d'Histoires de differents Auteurs. Manuscript of 400 pp., with table of contents, 5 pp. Each page has a border and decorations illuminated in green and gold. 8vo, contemporary olive green morocco, with richly tooled back, elaborate border on sides, of Crowns, Flowers, and Insects, enclosing in the center, the coat-of-arms of Queen Marie Antoinette, with end papers of a Star and Circle in gold, gilt edges. In a morocco solander case.

[1780]

Queen Marie Antoinette was an ardent patron of music and literature, and this volume was written and bound for her, and belonged to her private library. An exceedingly interesting volume.

60. — La Constitution Francaise, présentée au Roi le 3 Septembre 1791, et acceptée par sa Majesté le 14 du meme mois. Circular portrait of Louis XVI, with the Liberty Cap, printed in colors. 12mo, contemporary red morocco, gilt lines on sides, tooled back, inside gilt border, gilt edges.

A Paris, del'Imprimerie Nationale, 1791

Although this was probably the presentation copy to Louis XVI the binding, though rich, contains no Royal Insignia. The fleurs-de-lis are replaced by Republican emblems, and instead of the Royal arms in the center, there is a simple oval containing the legend "La Loi et le Roi."

This binding, together with the excessively rare portrait, makes the volume of peculiar interest.

THIS IS ONE OF THE RAREST OF MODERN FIRST EDITIONS, IN GENUINE FIRST STATE. The present copy bears on verso of title "First published in 1913." Regarding the postponement of the issue of this volume until the following year, with the cancelled title-page, it is interesting to quote Mr. Wise's explanation as it appears in his Bibliography of Conrad.

"It had been intended to publish CHANCE in the autumn of 1913, and the book was printed accordingly. But for certain reasons the publication was postponed until the spring of 1914, and fresh titles with the bibliographical note suitably amended were prepared. These were inserted in the whole of the printed copies then ready and awaiting delivery. Meanwhile some fifty copies with the original title uncanceled had been distributed among critics and other persons into whose hands it was desirable that early copies should be placed. One of these examples is preserved in the library of the British Museum."

This and the following 17 numbers comprises Mr. Kipling's recent work, mainly treating of the Great War. It is well known that Mr. Kipling has suffered greatly from the activities of piratical American publishers almost from the beginning of his literary career. Before the International Copyright laws of 1891, American publishers pounced upon Mr. Kipling's books and re-issued them without any profit to him. Since then other works of Mr. Kipling have been pirated in this country, from time to time, owing to changes in the Copyright regulations or some oversight on the part of Mr. Kipling's authorized publishers in fulfilling the exacting regulations. To guard against such opportunities to pirate his works Mr. Kipling has for the last few years arranged that all of his new writings are issued in this country in book-form prior to the English publication date. This insures American copyright to such publication, even though the actual number of copies issued be very small. Messrs. Doubleday, Page & Co. have therefore issued all of Mr. Kipling's recent work, even though it be only a single poem or short story, in pamphlet form, and thus establish the American publication date prior to the English publication day for each and every poem or story.

These Doubleday issues are printed in an edition of only a few copies; just enough to cover the requirements of our copyright laws, and no copies are sold to the public. The priority as "FIRST BOOK ISSUES" of these Doubleday pamphlets is therefore established by the firmest kind of evidence and Collectors will always demand these issues as the REAL FIRST EDITIONS of Mr. Kipling's works. That the issues are very small, and copies difficult to secure, is another feature which must appeal to Kipling Collectors.

POSSIBLY THE RAREST OF THACKERAY ITEMS OF WHICH ONLY THREE COPIES ARE KNOWN TO US.

692. THACKERAY (WILLIAM M.). Illustrations to The Surprising Adventures of Three Men. A series of 10 lithographed plates, with descriptive lines. Imp. 8vo, original cloth, with gilt ornamentation and title on sides, stucco binding (loose in covers).

N. p., n. d.

THIS REMARKABLE SPECIMEN OF THACKERAY'S EARLY WORK, IS ONE OF BUT THREE COPIES KNOWN AT THE PRESENT TIME. It was privately printed "For Presentation Only," and was in all probability issued shortly after Thackeray left College, when he was a man of substantial fortune.

The lines describing the humorous illustrations, are those of "The Three Sailors," which appeared in Bevan's "Sand and Canvas." The story of his reciting them at a Bohemian Party in Rome is well known.

THACKERAY'S RAREST WORK

[NUMBER 692]

That these lines are Thackeray's, no one can doubt, and the Ballad is INCLUDED IN LADY RITCHIE'S LAST EDITION. Furthermore, Thackeray was so extremely proud of his artistic abilities, that he would never in his earlier years have permitted another artist to have illustrated his own ballad, IN FACT NO OTHER ARTIST COULD HAVE INTERPRETED THE SPIRIT OF IT AS HE HAS DONE.

THERE ARE SO MANY SIMILARITIES BETWEEN THE ILLUSTRATIONS IN THIS PIECE AND MANY OF HIS DRAWINGS IN "THACKERAYANA" AS TO LEAVE NO ROOM TO DOUBT THE HAND OF THACKERAY IN THESE "SURPRISING ADVENTURES."

We have the authority of the famous London booksellers, Messrs. Maggs Brothers, that this book is indisputably the production of Thackeray, and that only one copy has ever passed through their hands, which is now in the possession of a distinguished New York collector.

UNIQUE THACKERAY ITEM

693. THACKERAY (WILLIAM MAKEPEACE). Captain Rook & Mr. Pigeon. Taken from Meadows' "Heads of the People." Text and 2 illustrations; together with special title-page, and two ORIGINAL PEN AND INK DRAWINGS BY THACKERAY, being his own conceptions of the Portraits of "Captain Rook" and "Mr. Pigeon"; the drawings inlaid to size. 8vo, full crimson levant, gilt back and inside borders, gilt edges, by Rivière.

These drawings were suggestions by Thackeray to Meadows, as to the appearance of the two characters of his sketch. On Rook's portrait Thackeray has written, in his slanting handwriting: "Captain Rook, about 35, a gentlemanly villainous-looking man, not exaggerated in countenance." The other portrait bears Thackeray's caption: "Mr. Pigeon, looking young, beardless, debauched." Meadows evidently did not coincide with Thackeray's ideas, for the engraved portraits bear not the slightest resemblance to Thackeray's drawings.

694. THACKERAY - CRUIKSHANK. The etched Title-page to Old Faces in New Masks. By Robert Blakey, together with an engraved plate from the same work, by George Cruikshank. Mounted on one sheet, with mat.

At the foot of the mounting IS THE INSCRIPTION BY THACKERAY: "Very curious W. M. Thackeray." A most interesting item containing Cruikshank's etching and the Novelist's comment.

695. [THOMAS (WILLIAM).] The Historye of Italye. A booke exceding profitable to be red because it intreateth of the astate of many and dyvers common weales, how they have bene and now be gouerned. *Title within ornamental woodcut border. Printed in Black Letter, with numerous contemporary manuscript notations. The dedication is signed Wylliam Thomas. A manuscript note beneath this reads: "This William Thomas, the 1st of May, Anno Mariæ primo, was drawn, hanged, and quartered at Tiburn for conspiring the murther and death of Queen Mary."

696. THOMSON (JAMES). The Seasons. With 4 fine copper-plates engraved by Tardieu after W. Kent. 4to, full dark blue straight-grained morocco gilt, gilt tooled back and inside borders in the manner of Roger Payne, gilt edges, by STIKEMAN. Lond. 1730
